Dear Warfield,

I think the matter referred to in your letter received at Caversham on 16th December was discussed at Tatsfield by Mr. Martin on the occasion of Dr. Musser's visit, and agreement was then given to make the recordings required. I understand that it may take a little time but I shall be kept informed of progress and I will let you know.

Yours sincerely,

R.D. Marriott

Dear [redacted]

Many thanks for sending me the language tables which I had asked for, and for the note of explanation which Ian Wilson has passed on.

As I said, I only really wanted them for my private interest, and I should like very much to know in time how your scheme for language training progresses.

Congratulations to you and

Dear [redacted]

No doubt you will have heard from Wilson that the decision we provisionally reached to recall him without replacement has been confirmed in Washington, and he will therefore have left by the time you get this letter. I have not any doubt that with your help things will proceed just as smoothly as they used to do when he was there. I only hope that it will not mean any extra work or trouble for you.

STAT

I have just returned from a very useful and pleasant visit to Washington, and it was agreed there, as no doubt [redacted] will be informing you, that there was no objection to direct correspondence between your staff and mine on all matters not involving policy where Washington would obviously have to be consulted. As a matter of routine we shall provide copies of any letters sent to you to the London Bureau of FBIS for transmission to Washington, so that the latter will be fully in the picture.

All good wishes to you all.

Yours sincerely,

R. D. MARRIOTT

[redacted]
At the conclusion of a second year as Chief of the FBIS group at Caversham, I want to express on behalf of FBIS as well as my own my deep appreciation for the warm hospitality which we continue to enjoy at the hands of the Monitoring Service. This feeling is compounded by a high personal esteem for Richard Marriott, whose keen insight and friendly understanding have served to strengthen still further the close ties that bind our two services.

May I at the same time convey to you my satisfaction at the recent action which has confirmed you as Director of External Services, and extend my very best wishes for a successful year.

Sincerely,
